

Alex Gaga

Bard / Hermit / Geology and environmental consultant

This packet helps you remember what you can do and which numbers to add during play. If a number differs from your character sheet, use the sheet.

TABLE ROLE

Support and Control

Push allies toward success and disrupt enemy momentum.

First: Who Am I?

Public Face

Alex has worked as a geology and environmental consultant, evaluating construction safety, disaster risk, development plans, and environmental hazards. She values structure, evidence, and careful investigation, but she is now trying to express things that scientific language cannot quite reach through song and performance.

She lives in an apartment above a restaurant that hosts local music performances and art events. From downstairs come music, conversation, cooking smells, and the low noise of the town gathering together. Her artistic career is not yet stable, and she feels the daily difficulty of turning art into a life.

Recent Events

The owner of the restaurant and building, Beatrice, is a slow-spoken, dreamy, unassuming old woman. She has always been patient and supportive of Alex's art. Her words stayed with Alex: "It is the artist's responsibility to help people realize that there is no them in us versus them."

Professionally, Alex has worked alongside Vincent several times. She consulted on municipal, public, private, renovation, and new construction projects while Vincent observed and coordinated from higher up the chain of command. They are not close, but they recognize each other, know each other's work, and can speak cordially.

NPCs and Relationships

Person	Reminder
Beatrice	Owner of the restaurant and building. Slow, dreamy, unassuming, and warmly supportive of Alex's art.
Vincent	A professional contact from several local projects. He is higher in the chain of command, so they do not interact heavily, but the relationship is cordial.
Old research friend	A friend from college and Alex's research career. Still deeply invested in science and unconvinced by Alex's artistic shift.

Places and Clues

- The local restaurant that hosts music and art events
- Alex's apartment above the restaurant
- Municipal and private construction or renovation sites
- The unstable day-to-day reality of trying to build an art career

Roleplay Anchors

- She is pulled between scientific rigor and artistic intuition.
- She feels how hard it is to make art into work, but does not want to give up expression.
- When her old friend asks about new research or the next geology conference, Alex has to ask where she is really going.
- Beatrice's words remind her of kindness, responsibility, and art that crosses boundaries.

Next: What Can I Do?

Max HP	PB	Spell DC	Spell Atk	Slots	Conc. Save
10	+2	13	+5	1st x2	+0

Ability	STR	DEX	CON	INT	WIS	CHA
Modifier	+0	+1	+0	-1	+0	+3
Save	+0	+3	+0	-1	+0	+5

DEX and CHA saves are this class's saving throw proficiencies. Ability modifiers are the base numbers for skills, attacks, saves, and many other rolls.

Combat Turn Basics

Action

Your main thing on your turn. Common actions include Attack, Cast a Spell, Dash, Disengage, Dodge, Help, Hide, Search, and Use an Object.

Bonus Action

You can use this only when a feature or spell says "Bonus Action." It is not a free extra action every turn. If you have several options, usually choose one.

Movement

You can move up to your speed. Movement is separate from your action. You can split it up: move, act, then move again.

Reaction

A response to a trigger, often outside your turn. You usually get one reaction per round. Opportunity attacks and some spells or features use this.

Common Actions

Action	What It Does
Dash	Gain extra movement for this turn. Use it to close distance, flee, or reach cover.
Disengage	Your movement this turn does not provoke opportunity attacks. Use it to leave melee safely.
Dodge	Focus on defense until the start of your next turn. Attacks from enemies you can see are harder to hit, and Dexterity saves have advantage.
Help	Help an ally. If the situation fits, their next ability check or attack can have advantage.
Hide	Try to hide. The DM decides if hiding is possible; usually roll Dexterity (Stealth).
Search	Look carefully, investigate, or notice something. Usually uses Wisdom (Perception) or Intelligence (Investigation).
Use an Object	Use a door, lever, tool, potion, or important item. Magic items may have their own rules.

Roll Basics

Proficiency Bonus (PB)

Proficiency means you are trained or practiced with something. At level 1, PB is usually +2. Add it only when you are proficient with the skill, save, weapon, tool, spell attack, or spell save DC involved. Do not add PB more than once to the same roll. When unsure, use checked or circled items on the sheet, or the already calculated attack and spell numbers.

Attack Roll

To see if an attack hits, roll d20 + attack bonus. If the total is at least the target's AC, it hits. Weapon attacks usually add the ability modifier plus proficiency bonus if proficient.

Spell Attack Roll

If a spell says "spell attack," you roll d20 + spell attack bonus. If the total is at least the target's AC, it hits.

Saving Throw

A defensive roll to avoid or endure danger. If the DM calls for a Dexterity save, for example, roll d20 and add the bonus from that save line.

Spell Save DC

If a spell says the target makes a save, the caster does not roll to hit. The target rolls and tries to meet or beat your spell save DC.

Alex Gaga's Numbers

- Spell attack: d20 + 5. That is proficiency bonus +2 plus Charisma modifier +3.
- Spell save DC: 13. That is 8 + proficiency bonus +2 + Charisma modifier +3.
- Concentration saves are usually Constitution saves, so Alex rolls +0. The DC is 10 or half the damage taken, whichever is higher.

How To Play A Bard

Alex is a bard who helps important moments succeed, weakens enemy actions, and changes situations through voice, performance, and illusion. You do not need to do everything every turn. Pick the one action that changes the flow right now.

Bardic Inspiration

As a bonus action, give an ally a d6 inspiration die. They can add it to an important d20 test later, possibly turning failure into success.

Good moments: dangerous saves, key attacks, persuasion, investigation, stealth, escapes, or any roll that would change the scene.

Bard Spells

Cantrips can be cast any number of times. 1st-level spells spend spell slots. Alex's spellcasting ability is Charisma.

You can concentrate on only one concentration spell at a time. Alex's current concentration spells are Bane and Sleep.

If You Are Unsure In Combat

1. If an ally is about to make an important roll, use Bardic Inspiration.
2. If several enemies need to be weakened, cast Bane.
3. If an ally is in danger or down, use Healing Word.
4. If you want to save spell slots, use Minor Illusion or a normal action to shape the scene.

Alex's Chosen Spells

Message

CANTRIP

Action. Send a whispered magical message to one creature in range, and they can whisper a reply.

May be blocked by some barriers. Excellent for stealth, split-party coordination, and signals.

Minor Illusion

CANTRIP

Action. Create a small sound or a small illusory object. It does not attack or deal damage.

Use it to distract, fake a noise, create simple cover, or pull attention. Touch can reveal it.

Bane

1ST / CONC.

Action. Up to three creatures make Charisma saves. On a failure, subtract 1d4 from their attack rolls and saves.

Concentration. Strong when several enemies are dangerous. Cannot be maintained with Sleep.

Dissonant Whispers

1ST

Action. One creature makes a Wisdom save. On a failure, it takes psychic damage and moves away if it can.

Use it to break enemy positioning. A successful save usually halves the damage.

Healing Word

1ST / BA

Bonus action. Heal one creature in range for 2d4 + your Charisma modifier.

Great for getting a distant downed ally back up. Ask the DM about same-turn spell limits.

Sleep

1ST / CONC.

Action. Creatures in the area make Wisdom saves. A failed save puts them to sleep or incapacitates them.

Best against weak or weakened enemies. Concentration. Damage or being shaken awake can end it.

Questions You Can Ask During Play

- Does this spell require concentration?
- Is this an action or a bonus action?
- Can I use performance, voice, or illusion to change this situation?
- Does the target make a save, or do I make an attack roll?
